Father O'Finberty's Reasons for Attacking a Man with a Beadly Weapon. AUBURN, June 30.—The Rev. Father O'Flaherty, who has given ball to answer to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon on his neighbor, Earl Gurnee, says:

"I have lived in the town of Sennett eleven years, following the calling of a farmer. My troubles began the first year I went there. They first began by attempting to ruin my herds, the tests of my cows about to some in having been cut or slitted by unknown parties, thereby de-stroying the usefulness of the animals for the cut or slitted by unknown parties, thereby destroying the usefulness of the animals for the season. Next my fences were broken down, my house shot at, and cockies and other foul stuff were sowed in with my wheat and barley and cats. My barn was next broken open and wheat stolen on several occasions. The drains darrying the water off my lands were cut off. Slander and falsehood in every possible form were circulated about my household. A general state of persecution existed, for the reason that I did not yislt or mingle with my neighbors. After robbing my barns four times last November, and again seven times during the months of March and April last—small quantities of wheat being stolen each time—they began shooting at my nephows, for the purpose of intimidating them from watching the barns, and to frighten the boys and myself so that we would be compelled to sail the farm and leave the neighborhood. One of my neighbors had a key to my granary, so that he could enter at his pleasure.

"While suffering from all these indignities, insuits and injuries. I did not complain until they shot out the eye of my nephew. A man whom we watched, because he threw stones at the members of my household the previous evening, was followed and recognized. The next night he was watched and caught in the act of committing a felony by shooting at my youngest nephew. He was followed by several personsiand by myself, and I headed him off and simply arrested him in a neighboring locality after leaving my premises. I sent to Auburn for an officer to take him into custody. The Captain sent back word that he could not send out a policeman. Upon the return of the prisoner, I let him go."

Forgave Him in Half a Day.

After Christopher Gunther, a musician, had quarrelled with his wife, at 111 Essex street, on Monday night, he ran out of the house, saying he was going to Bill himself. Mrs. Gunther called her daughter, and the two pursued Gunther across town until they met Police that the man was going to jump into the river, and Gunther was locked up. "He's a brute," said Mrs. Ganther to Justice O'Reilly "He's a brute," said Mrs. Gentner to Justice Userny yesterday.

"Yes," said the daughter, "we want him put away."

Then both women together told the justice what a horrible wretch and confirmed drunkard Gunther was, and the Justice promptly committee him for three months, and the wife and daughter went away.

At the afternoon session they appeared in court spain, "We can't rest along without him," they said to the Justice. "Please daughter thin this time He'll do better the next time." Then mosther and daughter cried.

As the Justice signed the discharge, he shook his head, and nuttered something about younge's fixleness, and the difficulty of understanding her ways.

Special Treasury Agent Norris Winslow is investigating the smuggling of horses from Canada into this State. Yesterday he traced to a sales stable in Brooklyn a lot of thirty animals which had been imported by way of Chateaugay, and for which the owners had obtained free permits, claiming that they were intendefor breeding. Winslow says he discovered that the horses had been sold to grocers, car companies, and truck drivers. They were valued at from $125 to $500 sach. The owner of the sales stables settled by drawing a check for the duties due on the horses. A few days ago special Agent Winslow recovered $700 on a trove of horses got past the Custom House at Kouse's Point free of day on the spround that they were for breeding purpless. feemed it best to postpone until Thursday the application to admit Rhinelander to bail.
Rhinelander looked somewhat haggard and walked

Justice O'Reilly waved his hands and pointed to the door. Drennan understood quickly, and, without saying thank you, walked out.

The Government to Station Flying Columbia of Troops in All the Bistricts, HAVANA, June 26 .- Captain-General Cas-HAVAKA, June 26.—Captain-General Castillo recently consulted the provincial Governors regarding the adoption of more vigorous measures for the repression of the revolutionary factions. A few days ago small parties of insurgents devastated plantations at faints Maria and La Merced, where the troops arrived too late, and even on their march lost some prisoners they had already madé. They had a profities fight with a force intreached in an empty house. The ill-advised way of contending with rebellion has suggested to the Captain-General the idea of forming in each rural district flying columns to prosecute the war just as it is prosecuted by the insurgent bands. He is said to have discovered that the present disorders differ from those of the first insurrection, when the rebels were massed in asveral eastern districts, leaving the rest of the island comparatively quiet, and when they repeatedly risked an engagement. Now the insurrection is at once everywhere and nowhere, and the troops are harassed by an invisible enemy. The soldiers are growing fatigued and dissatisfied, while the inhabitants are involveding general bankruptcy, which paralyzes all trade. For these reasons, it is asserted, the Captain-General will change the proposed general assembly of the corporations of the island to meet and consider the means of mending the situation. HEALTH

Is not possible when the blood is impure, and recovery from any aliment must be slow and uncertain while that condition continues. The Blood may be corrupted by the taint of Hereditary Scrodula, and the poleans of Mercurial and Contagious Diseases, and also by impurities implanted in it through excesse in living, improper foed, derangement of the digestive and assimilatory organs, and other causes. The first external evidences of such vitigation are Blackheads, Pimples, Sties, Eruptions, and Bolis. Yet more serious are the symptome showing its internal effects in depression of the Spiritis, Lassitude, Weariness without effort, Hendaches, Diminess, and enfeebled circulation. Be warned in time!

Aver's Sarsaparilla

Is the only medicine that will thoroughly purify the blood. In millions of cases, during nearly forty years in which it has been the best hope of humanity suffering from viliation of the life-current, it has effected curse beyond the power of any other remedy. Leading physicians know its composition from the most powerful altera-tives, diureties, and tonics, and prescribe it in their practice.
